

Verb Agreement with Compound Subjects

Directions: Rewrite each sentence in the space provided. Correct ALL errors in subject-verb agreement. If a sentence is already correct, write C.

1. Either spring or fall are marked by an equinox.

2. On the day of an equinox, days and nights is of equal length.

3. March and September is the months when equinoxes occur.

4. In the Southern Hemisphere, summer and winter are reversed.

5. In the Northern Hemisphere, more daylight hours and greater heat occurs in summer.

6. Hailstorms and the occasional tornado is quite common during summertime.

7. Neither a hurricane nor gale-force winds has damaged that weather station.

8. Lifeguards and safe swimmers pay close attention to the weather.

9. In the cool of autumn, the maples and the oaks turn red, orange, and gold.

10. Franks and beans make a good meal before an autumn football game.
